

The Young Academy of Europe Prize is awarded annually to early to mid-career professionals in recognition of their outstanding achievements and contributions to key areas of the YAE. In 2019, the YAE Prize has been named “André Mischke YAE Prize for Science and Policy” in honor of the YAE Founding Chair, André Mischke. The prize is awarded to support and promote: science, evidence-based policy making, science communication, and future generation scientists and scholars in Europe.

YAE PRIZE 2019 WINNER: PROF. JANUSZ BUJNICKI

Prof. Bujnicki is working in biology, focusing on bioinformatics, structural biology and synthetic biology, and is head of a research group in the International Institute of Molecular and Cell Biology (IIMCB) in Warsaw and at the Adam Mickiewicz University, Poznań, Poland. For his successes in research, he received numerous awards, prizes, fellowships, and grants including EMBO/HHMI Young Investigator Programme award, ERC Starting Grant, award of the Polish Ministry of Science and award of the Polish Prime Minister, and was decorated with the Knight's Cross of the Order of Polonia Restituta by the President of the Republic of Poland. In 2016 he has been elected to the Polish Academy of Sciences and is currently the youngest member of the Academy. Bujnicki has been involved in various scientific organizations and bodies active in the area of science and policy, both in Poland –the Polish Young Academy, civic movement Citizens of Science, the Scientific Policy Committee, the Council of the National Science Congress, and the Science Evaluation Committee – and abroad – the Life, Environmental and Geo Sciences (LEGS) panel of the Science Europe organization, and currently he is serving a second term in the Group of Chief Scientific Advisors within the Scientific Advice Mechanism for the European Commission. As an extension of his activities in the GCSA, he is actively involved in representing Poland in the area of the science-for-policy advice as a member of the European Science Advisors Forum. His current efforts focus on establishing a science-for-policy advice system in Poland, with the involvement of the Polish Academy of Sciences (including the Polish Young Academy) and Polish universities.

By awarding him the YAE Prize, the YAE recognises internationally leading academic research, management, and policy making. The YAE will award the third annual YAE Prize, the first one honouring our Founding Chair André Mischke, at the joint annual AE /YAE meeting in Barcelona on October 24.
